

Thank you for visiting www.luz.cc and thank you for your possible interest to take up a career in our organization. This document is created to give broad based idea for potential candidate.

What we are?

We are a startup IT Company. If you are looking for working with established large IT company kindly stay away and don't waste your time. We are into conventional business activity (trading, financial services, etc).

What we look for?

We look for trainee PHP programmers to take up a startup career with a startup company.

What we want to do?

We would like to create a full feature E-Commerce website to promote some of our products as well others product lineup. We also look for possible development of MLM (Multi Level Marketing) solution software and Matrimonial website. We might as well be interested in a social networking portal.

What kind of candidate we look at?

We look for any ambitious simple people looking for core technical experience and expertise. We are not necessarily looking for best of talent from best of institutions. A normal +2 with neighborhood IT education or self learning skills is also OK. Any MCA, BTech (IT) freshers or job retrenched with a keen aim to prove them (if given opportunity) is also ok.

In the industry we have come across candidates who work as telesales, marketing executives, field services but having IT qualification. These are typical candidates who studied but neglected by large well established IT companies who always hunt for best of talent with best of remunerative packages. We are here for you. To give you real time opportunity and nurture your talent and ability so that after about 2 years of service with us, you could be on the way to another bigger corporate IT major. Yes we look for 2 years commitment.

So if you are IT qualified, not yet selected by any large IT company and you feel that you are not likely to get that selection, do come to US.

We are not leaving any phone numbers. Don't bother to note it from our website and trouble us. We have better things to do than giving directions over phone or adjusting timings.

If you feel like forwarding your Resume, send to luzjob@gmail.com

Last time we gave a recruitment ad in popular job portal we received whopping 4500 E-Mails on single day and we are yet to open most of them. After all we would like to select possible around 6 candidates only. Where the time to read and reply mails if they come in 1000s?

All the best for you to be selected successfully in some other bigger company as you would have wished. If you still feel unfortunate, do try with us.
